

1. I am completely comfortable with the fact that Ireland may very shortly get into step with other jurisdictions where it is lawful to 'terminate' an unborn child with Downs syndrome right up to the time of birth -

.....YES / NO (circle one)

[Iceland boasts that it has 'solved' the problem of Downs syndrome. How? Simply by killing all unborn children with the condition.]

2. I am completely comfortable with the 'termination' of a child who, at twelve weeks' gestation, is perfectly formed, has a beating heart, and who fights furiously in his mother's womb to prevent the surgeon from killing him -

.....YES / NO

[This can be seen on an ultrasound scanner.]

3. I am completely comfortable with the fact that a jurisdiction which legalizes the killing of one group of innocent people can just as easily use the same moral argument to kill another group of innocent people (such as 'defective' newborns, the bedridden elderly, or the physically and mentally impaired) -

.....YES / NO

[Younger adults who vote in favour of repeal may find, fifty years from now, that they are facing 'termination' themselves because the total cost of their care in a nursing home exceeds a legal threshold.]

4. I am completely comfortable with the fact that many young mothers will grieve in silence for the rest of their lives over the son or daughter whose tiny life they 'terminated' -

.....YES / NO

[Many women feel the full emotional impact of their tragic mistake when they give birth to their 'first' child and realize that he or she was really their second.]

5. I am completely comfortable when a pregnant woman refers to her unborn child simply as a "foetus" because she plans to have an abortion -

.....YES / NO

[This highlights the stark moral contradiction in the 'pro-choice' position, where the unborn whom one plans to keep is a child but the unborn whom one plans to kill is a bundle of cells.]

6. I am completely comfortable with the fact that, if abortion is legalized, some of my own descendants – my own flesh and blood – will be 'terminated' -

.....YES / NO

7. I am completely comfortable with the fact that billionaire humanists and atheists, like George Soros, and sundry others who despise the Bible, have helped to fund the pro-abortion lobby in Ireland -

.....YES / NO

8. I am completely comfortable with the fact that most of the groups who lobbied for abortion in Ireland are atheists, radical feminists, Marxists, humanists or pagans (at least one member of the Government) -

.....YES / NO

[By and large these various categories support the morality of the New World Order which utterly rejects traditional Christian values.]

9. I am completely comfortable with the fact that RTE, TV3, The Irish Times, and The Irish Independent are intensely biased against the pro-life lobby and have repeatedly misrepresented their position and suppressed information that would reveal the true tragedy of abortion -

.....YES / NO

[The tragedy concerns, not just the children who are terminated, but the mothers who have been tricked into believing that, by killing their unborn child, their lives will improve.]

10. I am completely comfortable with the fact that the adoption of 'unwanted' children was never given the least consideration by the Government, the media, the pro-choice lobby, or vocal supporters of the Marxist/Humanist agenda -

.....YES / NO

[The crass hypocrisy of the Government position ought to be evident. For social or economic convenience an unborn child will be killed. Thousands of prospective adoptive couples would gladly give a loving home to the child, but our 'leaders' would prefer if he or she were 'terminated.' This is a sign of a sick society.]

11. I am completely comfortable with the fact that both the Citizens Assembly (which supposedly considered alternatives to abortion) and the Dáil Committee on abortion (which was supposed to be impartial) were cynically designed to give the Government the outcome it wanted -

.....YES / NO

[Only 3 of the 25 witnesses heard by the Dáil Committee were pro-life. Furthermore, the Government's claim that the Citizens Assembly was representative of the population as a whole is simply false.]

12. I am completely comfortable with the killing of unborn children conceived by rape or those whose physical condition is deemed by doctors to be such that they will not survive birth -

.....YES / NO

[These are the two 'trick' questions posed by atheists and humanists. They sneakily imply that the unborn child in these cases is not a child at all but merely a bundle of cells. A child conceived by rape is as human as any other child, while a child who suffers from serious health problems deserves to receive optimum medical care, whether inside or outside the womb. We don't 'terminate' seriously ill infants.]

You should have answered 'Yes' to all 12. If you didn't then there's a problem, and you know it.

Now ask yourself, is there really anything wrong with a Constitutional provision that guarantees equal rights to both the mother and her child? Remember, once it's removed, the killing will start, and as time passes it will only get worse. Why pretend that this will not be the case?

Article 40.3.3 The State acknowledges the right to life of the unborn and, with due regard to the equal right to life of the mother, guarantees in its laws to respect, and, as far as practicable, by its laws to defend and vindicate that right.

You don't have to be a Christian to see that killing children is wrong. Just because abortion is conducted in secret and the bloody mess is hidden from public view does not make it any less abhorrent. We live in a society today where people get upset if an animal is maltreated, but will vote in favour of a law to facilitate the killing of unborn children – who are, in every sense of the term, "innocent blood." We truly hope you are not one of those people.

This questionnaire was drawn up and distributed by concerned Christians who believe the people of Ireland are being led blindly – by amoral humanist politicians and a corrupt media – into the greatest spiritual catastrophe of our time. We hope it will help the electorate to focus clearly on the gravity of what they are about to do. We are all morally accountable. Atheists may sneer, but we will all stand before God one day and face His righteous judgment:

"Rescue those who are being taken away to death; hold back those who are stumbling to the slaughter. If you say, "Behold, we did not know this," does not He who weighs the heart perceive it? Does not He who keeps watch over your soul know it, and will He not repay man according to his work?" – Proverbs 24

- Innocent Blood -

Twelve simple questions for anyone who plans to vote in favour of repealing the 8th Amendment

If you intend to vote in favour of repealing the 8th Amendment, you will be approving a law to kill a certain category of person. That alone should make you think very carefully about what you are about to do. Like it or not, you are morally accountable for your actions. So, if you have decided to vote in favour of legalizing abortion, you need to be certain that you will not be implicated in some manner in the killing of innocent unborn children. (Please bear in mind that a child conceived by rape is innocent.)

We are not talking about tax laws or marriage laws or immigration laws. We are talking about the 'termination' of unborn children. It is doubtful whether you will ever again be asked to make a decision which has such devastating implications for two other groups of people – the unborn and their mothers.

So, if you have already decided to vote in favour of legalizing abortion, you should be able to answer each of the following with an unqualified Yes:
